17 March 2004

Chalmette National Wildlife Refuge, Louisiana

traveled to Chalmette to meet staff and survey the park grounds.

Met C. "Frank" Mubley, head of maintenance who was very helpful. He was planning to begin mowing next week, but will hold off for a few more weeks.

Herbaceous field (battleground) is mixed grasses, compasses, thistles, and some sedges in wet areas. A "16"9" patch is everywhere, but vegetation is only a 1-foot high. No evidence of rabbits.

17 March 2004

Charlottesville N. H. B. H. L. L., Tenn.

Will trap in field next week. A few trees near flood control levee was really junky, even saw a rabbit here.

Forested (wooded) on E side of Park is obviously often flooded - little or no ground cover. Mixed trees - mostly maples & gums with a few blackberries and other things. Found nothing new but lots of pretty dead ones.

Will trap Lencelia / edge of trees & park.

21 March 2004
