STATEMENT OF CLAIM OF
THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
FOR THE GRAND LAKE LODGE POWER
PIPE LINE

Comes now C. V. Marmaduke, Jr., Special Assistant to the Attorney General, duly authorized and directed by the Attorney General of the United States, appearing for the purpose of this claim only and not submitting the rights of the United States, which are hereafter set out, to the jurisdiction of the above-entitled court, or in any way subjecting its rights to the jurisdiction of the State of Colorado or any of its agencies, and makes the following statement:

I.

The name of the claimant is United States of America.

II.

The postoffice address of the claimant is Rocky Mountain National Park, Estes Park, Colorado.

III.

The name of the pipe line for which claim is made herein is the Grand Lake Lodge Power Pipe Line.

IV.

The headgate of said pipe line is located on the West, or right, bank of Tonahutu Creek, also variously called Little North Inlet and Big Meadows Creek, a tributary of the North Fork of the Colorado through the North Inlet to Grand Lake, and from which said Tonahutu Creek it derives its supply of water, at a point whence the northwest (NW) corner of Section thirty-two (32), Township four (4) North, Range seventy-five (75) West of the 6th Principal Meridian bears ✓

North eighty-seven degrees, fifty-two minutes ($87^{\circ} 52'$) West one thousand seven hundred and fifty-six and thirty-four one-hundredths (1,756.34) feet.

V.

Diversion is by means of a wooden headgate sixty-seven and one-half ($67\frac{1}{2}$) inches in width which is usually opened to provide a submerged opening of more than eleven (11) square feet under an effective head of two and one-half ($2\frac{1}{2}$) feet. The diversion capacity is in excess of thirty (30) cubic feet of water per second of time.

Water diverted is conveyed for a distance by an earth ditch. Said ditch has a variable cross section, with a minimum width of nine (9) feet. The depth of said ditch is eighteen (18) inches. The length of said ditch is one hundred and seventy-five (175) feet. The minimum grade thereof is one and fifty-five hundredths (1.55) feet per one thousand (1000) feet.

The capacity of said ditch is in excess of thirty (30) cubic feet of water per second of time. There is a spillway at the end of the ditch by which all water not needed for beneficial use is immediately returned to the stream.

VI.

The said ditch discharges into a pipe line or penstock. The diameter of said penstock is twenty-(20) inches. The length thereof is one thousand seven hundred and eighty (1780) feet. The controlling grade thereof is thirty-two and twenty-two one-hundredths (32.22) feet per one thousand (1000) feet. The total fall is one hundred and sixty-three (163) feet. The water from the penstock, after passing over a water wheel in a hydroelectric plant, is immediately returned to the stream by a ditch one hundred (100) feet in length at a point two thousand and twenty (2020) feet below the point of diversion.

VII.

The carrying capacity of said penstock is thirty (30) cubic feet of water per second of time, but the actual amount of water carried therein to and through the hydroelectric plant has been and is eight (8) cubic feet of water per second of time, for which claim is hereby made for the generation of electric energy in the power plant located in the Northeast quarter of the Southwest quarter of the Northwest quarter (NE $\frac{1}{4}$ SW $\frac{1}{4}$ NW $\frac{1}{4}$) of said Section thirty-two (32).

-3-

VIII.

The general course of the structure, including the ditch and penstock, is Southwesterly.

IX.

Work was commenced on said structure on June 1, 1920, and was completed in that year with the lower diversion. The present upper diversion was built in 1926. Continuous use of the amount of water stated for the purposes stated has been made ever since 1920.

The cost of said structure was approximately thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars.

X.

A map and statement of claim for said Grand Lake Lodge Pipe Line was filed with and accepted by the State Engineer of the State of Colorado on October 2, 1939, and was assigned by his filing No. 16,658.

WHEREFORE, without submitting or in any way subjecting the water rights of the United States hereinabove described to the jurisdiction of the above-entitled court, but respectfully stating that said court and the State of Colorado are without jurisdiction over the water rights of the United States and are without jurisdiction to enter any order to make any determination affecting, or in any way affect, said water rights owned by the United States in said Colorado River Watershed, it is suggested that the said court adjust its findings, determinations and decree in the proceedings referred to according to the rights herein disclosed on on the part of the United States and that it take cognisance of such rights in the said findings, determinations and judgment.

Subject: Grand Lake Lodge Power Pipeline

In response to a telephone request on February 18, 1986, from Glenn Kaye of your staff, we have investigated the status of water rights in Grand Lake Lodge Power Pipeline. In accomplishing this task, we have searched our water right docket, contacted the State of Colorado, Colorado Water Division No. 5, Grand County Court, U.S. Department of Justice, and a private attorney.

The attached hydrologist's report summarizes the results of this effort. If we can be of further assistance, please feel free to contact Owen Williams of my staff.

Grand Lake Lodge Power Pipeline -- Status of Water Rights

Hydrologist's Report

As evidenced by documents in our files, an intent existed in the late 1930s to secure a water right in the name of the United States for Grand Lake Lodge Power Pipeline. A claim for same was prepared for submission to the court in Civil Action No. 1768 (the adjudication of Water District 51). However, it appears that this effort was never completed. The State has no record of the existence of this water right and neither does the Department of Justice. On the other hand, records do exist for Grand Lake Lodge and Ranger Station Water System (0.072 cfs).

Searches of State records by name and by location did indicate the existence of water rights having the name Grand Lake Pipeline. The location, amounts and dates however, were very different from those of the Grand Lake Lodge Power Pipeline. Furthermore, the North Fork of the Colorado River, not Tonahutu Creek, was claimed as the source.

In view of the foregoing, it seems safe to say that no water right for Grand Lake Lodge Power Pipeline exists in the name of the United States. Furthermore, no water right of any ownership with that name and/or location has been identified by the State as being in existence.

The issue of removing existing structures was presented to Mr. John Hill, a trial attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice. In light of the water rights situation described above, Mr. Hill felt that if the diversion and appurtenant works have not been in operation through recent times a case could be legitimately put forward that any unknown water right holder has abandoned and forfeited such rights. The structures could therefore be regarded as property abandoned on a Federal reservation.
