

Park Science* Now Online

Park Science is now featured on the World Wide Web at "<http://www.aqd.nps.gov/nrid/parksci>". The home page describes the publication, the issues available online, article submission criteria, and instructions on how to download individual editions in portable document format (PDF) for subsequent viewing and printing. The web site also features an interactive article index that can search for a citation by keyword, park, title, or author, describes how to obtain back issues of the publication, and provides a simple way to get in touch with the editor. Give it a whirl.
