POEM

There are some forest that I haven't known.
Some tree trunks I've never wrapped
my legs and climbed.
A million branches I might have slid down
had I had the time.
Still,
Some leaves trembled in the woods
and caught my ear.
Some twigs beneath the hooves of deer
snapped and signaled spring.
Waking me from endless winter thoughts.

What is a committee????

A committee is a group of YACC members, which are elected by you. If you have any questions or problems that you feel you cannot discuss with a staff member, you may explain the situation to a Committee member(s) and they will see what they can do about the matter.

When there is to be disciplinary action, the Committee will be present and will observe these meetings. It is likely that each member will have their own opinion, and these opinions will not always agree with each other. Therefore the staff will listen and make the final decision.

YACC First To See - STEAMBOAT

On March 29, 1978, YACC Corpsmembers while shoveling snow at the Norris Geyser Basin witnessed a very spectacular event. Scott Nelson, Andy Korn and Bill Lawrence heard a loud noise and their investigation led them to Steamboat Geyser. Steamboat has been inactive since March 1969.

They saw the eruption which sprayed vehicles in the parking lot 1000 feet away, with water and gravel. They reported the eruption, which was around 350 feet, which started the Park Service and Area Media Personnel driving or calling about what caused the renewed activity. Rick Hutchinson, Park Geologist, thinks it may be due to the underground shifting of Steamboats plumbing.

Scott Nelson was later interviewed by Ken Davis of KWYS Radio, West Yellowstone, Montana. Thanks for being on your toes guys!!!

New By Laws In The Making

The YACC Counsel is in the process of revising the By Laws for the corpsmembers. On a motion by Sally McClair, the Counsel unanimously agreed that they should be revised.

Counsel members are presently in the process of redrafting the By Laws and should have them ready to present to the corpsmembers in the near future. If you have questions contact a counsel member.
