

Bureau of Arts and Culture
Research Library
Progressive Report 2006

A. Overview

The Bureau of Arts and Culture Research Library is a non-circulating reference library for the use of the Bureau personnel and public. The library is located at the Civic Center building within the Palau Register section. Bureau of Arts and Culture received news within the month of September 2006 that the Ministry of Community and Cultural Affair (located at Civic Center) they will be moving into their new office at the new capitol in Ngerulmud, Melekeok. So The Ministry decided that the Bureau of Arts and Culture should move into the Civic Center for the sake of conserving energy use, considering we could save money by maintaining two offices rather than three²₇₈. Therefore, in the month of October we relocated from our offices to the Civic Center.

The library has a collection of approximately 500 monographs, over 200 video cassettes and audio cassettes and more than 300 photographs. This collection consists of reports and publication concerning Palau, Micronesia, and the Pacific.

B. Project Accomplishments.

- Developing policies and reporting monthly summaries.
- Managing supply inventories and assessing usage resulting in the purchasing of additional materials. The Library purchased a printer to help with labeling and report printing. Previous experiences left the staff librarian depending on the availability of other sections printers to produce her assignments from draft to finalized. Another item that was purchased was a back up battery for the computer. For the past months the library computer has been operating with out a battery back up so when an island power out on a weekday happens saved files can be lost from corrupted computer wires. The back up was purchased to help better secure the computer from any serious hardware problems. .
- Begun scanning photos and documents and saving onto the computer. Only a few of the items have been scanned due to memory shortage on the computer hard drive. Library staff has requested for more memory for the computer or at least a memory stick for the documents to be saved.
- Access Database training in order to create a template database for the library and Palau Register. The training is divided onto two courses the first one is the basic software training and the second is the design course. The first part of the training has been completed and the second will assigned as soon as there are enough number of participants,

C. Recommendations

- It is recommended that the ceiling be replaced with new ones considering the present ones are old and peeling. While we were moving in we noticed that the ceilings towards the windows were peeling off so we used wood glue to place them back in place temporarily.
- It is recommended an air filter be purchased to help produce cleaner air for the workers and visitors. The Library area now is very compact and old so whenever there is movement of the items within the shelves and cabinets there is a film of dust created causing people eye irritation, coughing, and sneezing. Even as the staff is mopping and wiping shelves and the windows there just seems to be dust in the area.
- It is recommended that another fixture light be added next to the existing one. Shelves have been placed and the books are being shelved but it is realized there the one light is not enough when searching for books towards the walls. Right now we are using a flexible lamp to light the shelves towards the walls to better see the books.
- It is recommended that a second computer be installed in the library for researchers use only. This purpose will serve the researcher to browse through the library holdings and access networking Bureau sections database or survey reports.
